Process:

Firstly I copied most of the html and css from the previous assignment and just changed some of the colours to match better the gamehub Api. Then I started writing basic functions in Javascript to make products display on the page.

Afterwards I made sure I had all the functions needed in the project, and added things I thought was needed.

Then I made sure I covered all of the user stories for the assignment.

Reflection:

After the Exam project we did I felt that this assignment went a lot more smooth than when I first tried doing it, and feel more confident writing Javascript now than I did before. I also had quite a lot of fun writing the functions and making the Api work properly.
